“Purple Out” Over, Reclaim to Resume Normal Availability

OCOEE, FLORIDA – The “Purple Out” which took effect on May 12, 2011 has ended for the summer. Rainfall levels have increased, causing reclaim usage throughout the city to stabilize; and eliminating the need for water conservation measures that were in place to maintain sufficient supply to customers.

Residents using the reclaim system may resume their regular irrigation schedule and can water any day. It is recommended that watering does not occur between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. to promote a healthy lawn.

If you have any questions or would like to check on reclaim availability, please contact the Utilities Department at (407) 905-3159. If you are experiencing little to no water pressure in your irrigation system, please contact the Utilities Department before contacting your irrigation specialist. If necessary, the City will send a service technician to your home to check your reclaim water at the meter at no charge.
